Gained in Strength

READ WHAT

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

did for the Invalid Daughter of a Prominent Lowell Tradesman.

"My daughter had for a long time been troubled with violent headaches and sleeplessness. She was pale, had no appetite, and was losing flesh rapidly. She took various remedies for her trouble, but received no benefit until she commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking half a bottle, she began to feel better. By a continued use of this medicine, her appetite returned, her cheeks began to fill out and show color, she gained in strength, her headaches disappeared, she slept better, and now says she feels like a new person."—J. HAWAIIAN RELIEF SOCIETY.

THE AUCTION HELD AT ITS ROOMS THIS MORNING.

Several Society Ladies Invest in Bargains and Fred. Macfarlane Nods His Head.

Owing to the necessity of vacating the premises on Bethel street occupied by the ladies of the Hawaiian Relief Society, it was determined to auction off the utensils and material left over from the work of preparing rations for indigent Hawaiians. Auctioneer Morgan volunteered his services and promptly at 10 o'clock put up 14 large mesh bowls for sale, which were secured by Mrs. S. C. Allen for one napoleon. Another individual, who could not be accused of not knowing a good thing when he saw it, walked off with 3 dozen smaller bowls for three rials. A lot of 14 large tin cups realized the magnificent sum of 25 cents, and 3 dozen smaller ones brought 25 cents. Another lot of 18 cups was put up, and the auctioneer noticing Fred. Macfarlane nodding his head promptly knocked them down to him at 50 cents.

The supply of tin cups being exhausted Mr. Morgan next sold a lot of 4 coffee pots for two bits. Mrs. Graham became the owner of a solid silver-plated tin flower-sifter in exchange for the sum of 35 cents, and Mrs. Renjes' cooks will be happier in the possession of two big agate dippers which cost their new proprietor 50 cents for the lot. Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Graham have more ladies than they had last night, the former paying three bits for three and the latter two bits for the same number. About this time Morgan caught Fred Macfarlane nodding again and charged him up with another 50c, after which he traded off 22 dippers of various kinds but of Hawaiian nationality for a dollar. A Chinese got an alarm clock for 75 cents which was guaranteed to keep away cholera as well as sleep from its new owner. Mrs. Carter invested in two Yale locks for 87 cents and Mrs. W. F. Allen will have a fine large coffee pot on hand the next time she makes some more of that splendid coffee for the Masonic Temple squad of the Citizens' Guard. It costs her a dollar, but it was made out of iron treble plated with tin. Mrs. Allen also invested in a lot of knives, forks and spoons enough to start a relief station of her own. Mr. Sylvano also bought a flour-sack full of assorted knives and forks, and it was rumored about the room that he intends to celebrate his purchases by giving a luau in the near future.

A Chinese got a bargain in a pair of Fairbanks' counter scales for $4.25 and Mrs. Renjes outbid a hungry Celestial for the ownership of 6 packages of cornstarch, paying seven rials for the privilege. A lot of ground coffee, two bottles of cayenne pepper, a tin of mustard and a can opener realized 35 cents in spite of the auctioneer's efforts to obtain more. Purser Beckley of the Kinau won't need to buy any salt for a while, as his better half bought half a sack full together with a tin wash pan and two agate soap dishes all for a dollar. She also invested in oilcloth.

A lot of boilers, a sink, fixtures, and even the lumber and corrugated iron roofing of the extemporized kitchen were sold, but a promise to Morgan not to make public the prices realized for fear of ruining the auction business forbids any farther mention thereof. The total amount realized by the sale was $190.00, the first cost of the articles sold being over $600.

The ladies of the Society will meet in a day or two to discuss the project of incorporating The Hawaiian Relief Society as a permanent institution, but in the meantime are not neglecting any deserving cases.

They are taking care of a member of Kakaeko fishermen and their families who are at present debarred from earning their usual living by the regulations of the Board of Health, although many of the members think that as the government has arbitrarily deprived these poor Hawaiians from the means of livelihood it should furnish others or take care of them until it does.

SERIOUS CHARGES.

Against Captain Paul Smith as Superintendent of the Dredger.

EDITOR BULLETIN.—The undersigned employees of the Government dredger desire to make the following statement in which we charge Captain Paul Smith, captain of the Government dredger, with gross dishonesty and specify our charges as follows:

1st.—On or about the fifteenth of August, 1895, while the dredger was at work at the Oceanic wharf, forty tins of opium were turned up by the dredger, brought on board and turned over to Captain Paul Smith. No mention of this find was made to Government officials and the opium mentioned was afterward sold to private parties, of which transaction we have proofs.

2nd.—That during the month of November, 1894, while the dredger was at work at the railroad wharf, Captain Smith ordered two of the employees to take lumber from the dredger to his house, situated on Fort street, mauka of Beretania street, and to construct for him, on his premises there, a fence and chicken house, using the forementioned lumber, which was Government material and was not paid for by Captain Smith.

The employees who performed the labor of construction of the fence and building were not remunerated by Captain Smith, but their time was turned in on the regular payroll for the week during which they were engaged upon Captain Smith's private affairs, thus defrauding the Government of $24 worth of labor, besides the material used.

FITS CURED

(From U. S. Journal of Medicine.)
Prof. W. H. Peck, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any living Physician. His success is astonishing. We have heard of cases of 20 years' standing cured by him. He publishes a valuable work on this disease which he sends with a large bottle of his absolute cure, free to any sufferer who may send their P.O. and Express address. We advise anyone wishing a cure to address, Prof. W. H. PECK, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York.

THOSE INFORMERS AGAIN.

SOME OF THEIR TRICKS BEING THOROUGHLY VENTILATED.

The Outcome of the Troubles of the Pedro Family.—Other Police Court Notes.

At this morning's session of the District Court the charges against Henry Cockett for assault, William Daly for being drunk and Pahia for assault were dismissed in short order.

Anakolio pleaded guilty of malicious mischief in tearing down three dollars worth of fence, the property of Eleazer Lazarus. He was fined $5 and costs.

The Pedro families were in Court again this morning and Mrs. Palekai Pedro testified to a hair-pulling and biting match with her sister-in-law, which was the outcome of the row between the two brothers. Palekai got the worst of it for a time, but finally got on top of her antagonist and made her cry enough.

Judge Perry finally settled the differences of the family by finding both Sam and his wife guilty. Sam got a $40 fine and his pugilistic wife half the amount, with $1.75 added to each for the costs of the Court. Peter Pedro, whose case was tried on the 10th and taken under advisement, was found not guilty.

Before the case of Makaima, which was partly heard this morning, is concluded, considerable light will be thrown on the methods used by a number of informers to secure convictions for selling liquor without a license. Makaima lives near the Insane Asylum and is under arrest on that charge. His attorneys, A. G. M. Robertson and J. K. Kauha, are sifting the matter and manner of his arrest to the very bottom and the principal witness for the prosecution was kept on the stand the better part of the morning session. This was Julius Lundenberg whom special detective Cordes uses when he puts up one of his fancy jobs on those whom he suspects of selling liquor without the proper license.

Lundenberg's testimony boiled down is that after ingratiating himself with Makaima and the girl Phoebe and others who frequented the place, during which he had purchased wine when by himself, he went to the house accompanied by Charles Ott and Xavier, where he found the defendant and a lady. Negotiations ensued which resulted in the purchase of a bottle of gin for $1.25 and one of wine for 50 cents. Like the great detective for whom he was working Lundenberg is an expert on liquors and was able to swear positively this morning that it was gin he bought, for he tasted it on the spot. The actions of the informers at this stage of the proceedings seemed to have alarmed the defendant and he started to leave, but was forced to remain seated by the presentation of a pistol at him by Ott. All of this time the money was on the table, but the defendant afterwards took it but whether under the influence of the pistol or not has not yet come out in evidence. At this juncture Cordes, who had stationed himself fifty feet away on the entrance of his informers, made his appearance and the arrest took place. The house was then searched and a big bottle of gin and two demijohns were found. The witness did not know what the contents of the demijohns was, but knew that one was full of something because it was very heavy by the time he got it to the street car, while the other was nearly empty.

The defense are not through with Mr. Lundenberg yet, and having wormed the pistol episode out of him are fishing for more testimony which will show up the peculiar methods adopted by informers.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Removes All Restrictions on School-children from Infected Districts.

The Board of Health held a special short session at 3 p. m. yesterday.

Dr. Emerson moved that the restrictions heretofore put on the attendance at school of children from the infected districts be rescinded. Carried.

A supplementary report from the committee on contaminated water was read and filed.

A resolution was carried allowing quarantined Chinese to leave for Maui and Hawaii on the Kilauea Hou this afternoon.

The quarantine on the crews of the island steamers was discussed and it was finally decided that if no cholera cases happen before Saturday, the men will be allowed ashore, but they will not be allowed to land at any other port.

WINDY FABLES.

One Whereof Relates to Filling Boreas and Another to an Out-Abled Man.

A Filibuster, who had exhausted his supply of wind in an endeavor to convince the people of the Ocean Metropolis that he was about to descend upon them in force, called upon Boreas to replenish his lungs.

"I am sorry," said his Atmospheric Godship, "but I am afraid that I cannot fill your order; it is now near the time of the Wintry Gales and the constant heavy calls from yourself and Mr. Willicess have made it necessary for me to husband my store of Oxygen."

"Besides, the peculiar manner in which you blow yourself off at the Sandwich Islands has convinced me that you are not the Lulu you suppose yourself to be."

"Hut No Lulu!" exclaimed the alleged Pirate.

Whereupon, the Major and the Minor Brezes were convulsed with mirth at the silly pun, while Boreas let drive such a blast that "Fili" busted.

A Postmaster was seen going into a Toy Store, and when asked by the Gentlemanly Attendant what he desired to be served with, replied:

"I wish to purchase an Air Gun. I am going on a still hunt after a man named Morning Henderson. He has a Monthly Hawaiian Gaspipe, and I am resolved upon shooting him with his own weapons."

"Indeed," said the Gentlemanly Attendant, "I wish you success, especially as the party you mention is not one of our Customers. Come in again bye and bye and buy a Bicycle."

"Thanks," answered the P. M., as he secreted the Parcel in his Mail-bag; "I will do so after I have made this Dark Horse take his Oat."

Moral: Insure your life.

Condemned Fish.

Inspector David Keliipio did good work this morning when he condemned a lot of putrifying fish and ordered it destroyed. The lot consisted of seventeen choice specimens of oio and were forwarded from Kuaioa by a native named Kehele. Investigation showed they were caught yesterday morning and had spoiled on the way here.

MULLER'S CASE IS HERE.

CHIEF JUSTICE JUDD APPROVES BISHOP ESTATE ACCOUNTS.

Matters of Interest in the Probate Department of the Circuit Court.

Henry Smith, Clerk of the Judiciary Department, is a commissioner to take depositions at Honolulu in the case of A. E. W. Muller vs. Charles Edward Bird and James Huddart. This is the suit for $50,000 brought by Muller, one of the trio who were the pioneers of the political exiles after the insurrection of January, against the Canadian Australian Steamship Company, for forcibly taking him away from this country. The two others were Johnston and Cranston. The first named defendant was captain of the steamship Warrimoo—"the big ship that took my John from me," as the old ballad runs. Mr. Huddart is managing owner of the line.

Commissioner Smith has posted a notice at the entrance to the Clerk's office, addressed to A. E. W. Muller, Wilson and Campbell, his attorneys, and to their agents in Honolulu. They are notified that, in pursuance of a commission issued to him (Mr. Smith) by the Supreme Court of British Columbia he has appointed his office at the Court House in Honolulu, and will begin taking depositions at 10 a. m. on Friday, 18th inst. Also that the following witnesses will be examined by him at the said time and place, and thereafter from time to time until such testimony is completed: J. L. Zavier, Geo. Cavanaugh, E. G. Hitecock, F. H. Wagner, L. Berndt, J. L. Osmer, Gus Cordes, C. Wicht, C. N. Johansen, S. B. Dole, W. O. Smith, F. M. Hatch, J. A. King.

Chief Justice Judd this morning approved the accounts of the Trustees of the Bishop Estate, disallowing, however, $130 of the commissions charged.

It is stipulated between Messrs. Neumann and Hatch, attorneys respectively for petitioner and contestants, that the matter of the contest to the petition of S. Ehrlich, bankrupt, for a discharge will be heard on Tuesday, 18th inst.

Kahoohanohano, niece of James Kukona, deceased intestate, petitions for letters of administration to A. P. Haiola. The estate is valued at $800.

Maria Ena and John C. Lane have petitioned that a guardian be appointed for William C. Lane, an alleged spendthrift. Judge Cooper has accordingly signed an injunction forbidding respondent, his agents, attorneys and servants from selling, mortgaging or otherwise disposing of or encumbering the real estate belonging to him, until further order of the Court, under penalty of being adjudged guilty of contempt of court.

The petitioners are daughter and son of respondent, who is 70 years of age. They allege that he is about to conclude a sale of valuable rice land in Koolauloa to Senator Hocking of Maui, and declare their fear that the money so procured would be squandered. Respondent is summoned to answer the petition on the 31st inst.

Why Not You?

When thousands of people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to overcome the weakness and languor which are so common at this season, why are you not doing the same? When you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to cure rheumatism, dyspepsia and all diseases caused by impure blood, why do you continue to suffer? Hood's cures others, why not you?
